

Ethical Practice with Diverse Clients

Presented by

Linda K. Knauss, Ph.D., ABPP

Overview

Knowing how to work successfully with clients who have diverse opinions as well as clients who represent ethnic, racial, cultural, and gender diverse identities is essential. This workshop will focus on the ethical principles of autonomy, beneficence, nonmaleficence, fidelity, and justice to provide a framework for responding to difficult situations. This workshop will also involve the participants in the application of ethical decision-making and participants are invited to discuss their own ethical dilemmas.

Objectives: Participants will be able to:

- Relevant ethical principles related to a variety of difficult situations.
- Ethical principles as applied to their practice with diverse clients.
- How they can improve their ethical decision-making
